Hoover's Re-Entry Into Limelight was Carefully Timed and Planned

WASHINGTON — There was nothing accidental about the recent flurry of public appearances and speeches of J. Edgar Hoover.

They were all carefully arranged and timed. Sources close to the former Republican President say that from now on he can be expected to perform in the limelight with increasing frequency and forcefulness.

Hoover, they declare, has decided to re-enter public life. Whether this means he has his cap set for another shot at the presidency, his friends are unable to say. They do, however, relate this significant story:

In the original manuscript of Hoover's book, published last year, there was a statement that he was not a candidate for the 1936 nomination.

But on the advice of Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury in his Cabinet, and several other close political advisers, Hoover eliminated the declaration. It never appeared in the published volume.

Strange Interlude

Representative John J. McSwain recently had a hectic experience in one of the tourist-filled corridors of the Capitol.

The tall, distinguished-looking South Carolinian was hurrying through the corridor, deeply engrossed in his thoughts, when he collided with a bevy of schoolgirls escorted by a professional guide.

McSwain started to apologize, when the guide, seizing the opportunity to show off his familiarity with notables, broke in with a loud bellow:

"Ladies, meet Representative Robert L. Doughton of your home State, North Carolina!"

The smartly-attired misses tilted. McSwain looked pained.

"The name is McSwain, John J. McSwain," he corrected in an undertone.

"Oh, of course, excuse me," the guide said, "Representative John J. McSwain of North Carolina, chairman of . . ."

" . . . of SOUTH Carolina," McSwain corrected.

"Ah, yes, my mistake," said the guide, wholly unperturbed, "of South Carolina, Chairman of the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee."

"No, no," corrected McSwain for the third time. "Chairman of the House Naval . . . I mean, Military Affairs Committee."

"I beg your pardon, Congressman," said the guide pleasantly. "Chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and a member of Congress for the past twelve years . . ."

"Fifteen!" snapped McSwain.

The guide grinned disarmingly. "I'm sorry," he began, "you see, it is this way. Mr. Doughton . . ."

But McSwain waited to hear no more.

Taking No Chances

The AAA master-minds are taking no chances. Having seen what the Supreme Court did to the NRA they propose to lock the door before, not after, the horse is stolen.

This is what is back of an amendment they have sent to Congress barring court suits to recover processing taxes from the Government in the event the Supreme Court holds such taxes invalid.

These processing taxes amounted to $800,000,000 last year—a sum almost equal to the combined Army and Navy appropriations. For the Government to have to refund such an amount would be a terrific jolt.

Triple-A lawyers say they are confident the court will uphold the legality of the taxes. But to insure against any "slips" they are pro-

Davey Cites Three Reasons for Signing

COLUMBUS, June 12.—In many respects the most important legislation of the 91st Ohio General Assembly, the Traxler-Kiefer $48,000,000 public school foundation program bill was signed today by Gov. Martin L. Davey.

The governor made it plain that not all the bill's provisions meet with his unqualified approval, but he said its faults could be corrected by future legislation.

Gives Three Reasons

He cited three major considerations which prompted him to approve the measure:

1 "It represents the consummation of the hopes and labors of all those interested in the schools of Ohio, and is the result of the ardent effort of these earnest citizens over a long period of years.

2 "There are approximately 10,000 teachers in Ohio whose salaries have been unpaid for several months, and who would be without hope of pay, without the provisions this bill. Such a situation could not be permitted; those who labor in the cause of education must receive their compensation.

3 "All school budgets must be prepared within the next few weeks. School authorities and boards of education must know what revenues will be available in order to prepare their budgets intelligently."

New Tax Seen

Enactment of the Traxler-Kiefer bill into law made new taxation inescapable. At present the state is contributing about $40,000,000 a year to education. Most conservative estimates of the outlay under the new foundation program are $48,000,000.

Thus the legislature, when it re-

TRAIN KILLS OHIO YOUTHS

Brothers Riding on Truck Victims of D. T. & I. Train Near Greenfield.

GREENFIELD, June 12.—Two brothers were killed and a third was seriously injured today when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a D. T. & I. train at a private lane crossing near here.

Those killed were Arthur Johnson, 16, and Orville Johnson, 19. Their 12-year-old brother, Wayne, received painful scalp injuries and bruises.

Engineer of the train was John Pyle of Springfield. He said he blew the train's whistle but the youths apparently failed to hear the warning signal. Parents of the youths said the boys had left home this morning in search of work on a neighboring farm.

HOLDING COMPANY FIGHT IS BITTER

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Despite senate approval of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill outlawing giant utility holding companies, the measure faces a stiff battle in the house.

A band of members of the house interstate commerce committee, including both Democrats and Republicans, are staging a desperate fight to temper the bill's restrictions on the ground that they hamper recovery.

The measure was passed by the senate by a vote of 56 to 32.

"G-Men" Make Kidnaping Foolhardy Racket

Since the murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., started the department of justice in the business of smashing kidnaping rings, the "G-men" have cleared up virtually every major abduction case. This has been borne out by recent arrests of Harmon Waley and his wife, in Salt Lake City, for the kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser, nine-year-old of Tacoma, Wash., in which $200,000 was paid. Immediately after the ransom payment was made in the Lindbergh case, the federal sleuths stepped into the picture and today Bruno Richard Hauptmann is awaiting execution in the death house at Trenton, N. J., following his arrest in New York by police. Verne Sankey was captured by the "G-men" for the snatch of Charles Boettcher of Denver, Colo. He committed suicide in his jail cell. Walter McGee met his Waterloo in the abduction of Mary McElroy of Kansas City, Mo., and he now is serving a life sentence. Roger Touhy and his gang were given a 99-year stretch for the snatch of John (Jake the Barber) Factor in Chicago.

200 Sportsmen Attend Mt. Pleasant Gathering

Sportsmen of Pickaway-co gathered Tuesday evening at Mt. Pleasant church, Deer creek-twp., for a fine meeting which followed an equally fine chicken supper.

The meeting was sponsored by the Mt. Pleasant brotherhood of which E. C. Rector is president. He acted as chairman for the program.

Talks were made by ex-Senator J. P. Atwood and J. F. Meckstran, editor of the Ohio State Journal, both of Columbus, and H. E. Betz, president of the Pickaway-co Farmer's and Sportsman's Protective association, and B. S. Timmy, Millar, South Bloomfield, president of the newly-organized Bird Dog club.

Music during the evening was furnished by Mrs. J. D. Bragg who sang and played her accordion, and Charles Carter, basso, who was accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Ruhl at the piano.

The Mt. Pleasant brotherhood is taking active steps to support the conservancy program in Pickaway-co. The brotherhood embraces Deer creek and Wayne-twps. The canal dam is being built in Wayne-twp. and the Mt. Pleasant group is doing all it can to make the park in the vicinity of the dam a complete one.

Tuesday evening's meeting was held for the purpose of gaining support for the conservancy program.

ROME FLIERS FUEL PLANE

Brothers May Hop Off From Floyd Bennett Field This Evening.

FLOYD BENNETT FIELD, New York, June 12.—Loading of gasoline into tanks of the Bellanca monoplane in which the Portuguese brother-aviators, George and Alfred Monteiro, hope to fly non-stop to Rome, was begun before noon today. Approximately 900 gallons of fuel were to be poured into the tanks.

While the loading process was under way, the brothers were in consultation with Dr. James H. Kimball, trans-Atlantic weather expert, from whom they expected a report by noon on whether atmospheric conditions were favorable to start of the flight.

Should they decide to leave today, they said, their takeoff probably will be between 4 and 6 p. m., daylight time.

M. SENSENBRENNER HEADS G. O. P. CLUB

Elected Tuesday Evening To Succeed Lamb; Executive Group Named.

Marion A. Sensenbrenner, E. Union-st, today had been elected the new president of the Pickaway-co Republican club succeeding Sterling Lamb, who has served through the past year.

Sensenbrenner was named at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Three members including Mr. Lamb, Frank Davis, and Richard Hedges, the latter of Ashville, were elected to the executive committee.

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday at which time other officers will be selected.

WRIGHT FUNERAL

Funeral services for Henry Wright, 61, who was killed Sunday when he fell from the high Baltimore & Ohio trestle near Orient, were held at the Harrisburg, Md. church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Shepard in charge. Burial was in Mt. Sterling cemetery by the A. J. Holt Co.

BRITAIN'S KING REPORTED ABED

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., June 12.—Anxiety spread throughout Britain today when it was learned that King George, in the midst of his coronation jubilee celebrations, has been laid low by his second illness in less than a fortnight.

A bulletin issued by his personal physicians at Sandringham house, his country residence near the seaside in East Anglia, said: "The King is suffering from bronchial catarrh, which is slow in disappearing, because his majesty is fatigued by his efforts of the last few weeks."

CLARK TO ADDRESS K. OF P. SERVICES

Fred C. Clark, S. Court-st, will be the speaker Sunday when the Knights of Pythias conduct their annual Memorial services in the Pythian castle. The program starts at 2 o'clock.

The memorial committee is comprised of T. M. Glick, Earl Pearce, and John Bolender. Henry T. McCrady is chancellor, commander of the lodge and S. L. Warner is its keeper of records and seal.

Invades "Sin's Lair"

After viewing the scene of the auto crash which is the basis for a damage suit of $10,000, a jury of eight men and four women this afternoon began to hear testimony. Fred Wing is the plaintiff and Joseph Schleich the defendant in the action. Both are Williamsport men.

Judge H. M. Rankin of Fayetteville is on the bench after his assignment by Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt.

The jurors are Irma Stevenson, second ward; Anna Carpenter, Muhlenberg-twp.; Walter Lemley, Perry-twp.; G. B. Gulick, Monroe-twp.; Page H. McCrady, Madison-twp.; A. M. Daugherty, Darby-twp.; Warner Rhoades, Pickaway-twp.; Josie Allen, Deer creek-twp.; C. W. Glick, Harrison-twp.; Herbert Gray, Salter creek-twp., and Anna F. Plum, first ward.

Attorneys in the case are Adkins and Adkins and William D. Radloff for Mr. Wing and Tom A. Renick for Mr. Schleich.

The automobile wreck occurred opposite the John H. Dunlap farm near Williamsport.

LOUIS COYNER DIES

Louis Coyner, a resident here a number of years ago and a brother of Mrs. Carrie Patton, W. Mound-st, passed away suddenly Tuesday at his home in St. Louis. He was a Ross-co native.

He leaves his widow, two sons and a daughter.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon in St. Louis.

COURSE UNCERTAIN

Strong Words Used in Their Attack

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—The pattern of the 1936 campaign for the presidency stood out today in sharp, bold outlines.

The Democrats, perforce, must stand on the record of the Roosevelt administration and defend the New Deal agencies which it has created to meet complex social and economic questions.

The Republicans must—and will—attack. Their offensive is to be launched from the trenches that have been dug this week in the shadow of Lincoln's tomb. Those trenches went beyond the "grass roots" of mere political opposition, and penetrated the personal field.

American history records no more stinging indictment of a national administration than that drawn up and approved here in Springfield by the 8,000-odd Republicans from the prairie states of the Mississippi basin.

What's doing in Pickaway-co's rural sections, among its farmers, 4-H club leaders and others? The Herald is publishing a "Farm Page" weekly on which news of interest is found. The new sign-up for hog-corn contracts is underway, rural electrification campaign is gaining speed, and 4-H club meeting reports are found on the page in addition to much other information.

WALEYS EVADE DEATH TRIAL?

Reports Couple to Plead Guilty Under Lindbergh Law and Serve Life.

TACOMA, Wash., June 12.—Within a week Harmon Metz Waley, 24, and his wife Margaret, 19, will kiss and say farewell forever.

He will be taken to Alcatraz Island, Uncle Sam's "Devil's Isle," in San Francisco bay, and she to federal women's prison at either Alderson, Va., or Milan, Mich.

In cells many thousand miles apart, the Waleys, admitted participants in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case, will spend the remainder of their lives.

International News Service learned today on reliable authority that the Waleys will plead guilty when arraigned here on federal kidnaping charges—commonly known as the Lindbergh law—which were filed at the request of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

The Waleys, captured at Salt Lake City with approximately half of the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser ransom, consider the chance to plead guilty to the federal accusations as a "break," it was learned. This procedure means they will not "risk their necks."

By facing the federal charge, the Waleys feel they will escape trial and possible death in the state courts on charges of kidnaping nine year old George Weyerhaeuser, scion to a vast timber fortune.

PAIR IS JAILED FOR GRAND JURY PROBE

Columbus Men Held Under $1,000 Bond Each; Crites Faces Charges.

Two Columbus men, Kline Lurty and Grover Eubanks, were bound to the grand jury each under $1,000 bond, Tuesday, when they appeared before Squire H. O. Eveland for grand larceny in connection with theft of cigarettes from a Strawser line truck.

They were represented by Max C. Seyfert, Jr.

Lurty and Eubanks were arrested by Sheriff Joe Vincent of Chillicothe who charged they took cigarettes from the truck while it was passing through Pickaway-co.

H. M. Crites, S. Court-st, is charged with assault and battery in charges filed in Squire Eveland's court by Walter Artrip and Donald Sweeney, local youths, who claim he struck them.

The hearing has been continued with the date not yet set.

Charles Phillips of Chillicothe, charged with failing to provide, was released from the county jail Tuesday when he gave $500 bond to assure care of a child.

Allen Floyd of Tilton was released from the county jail Tuesday after he settled a $2 bad check given to J. G. Castlow.

10 YOUTHS GET CHANCE IN CCC

Pickaway-co is to have ten more youths in the Civilian Conservation Corps by July 1. C. C. Stillman, federal relief administrator, announced today.

The boys will be selected from a list of applicants in the county relief office. They will report at the Goodale-st. armory, Columbus, July 1.

VISIT PEARCE HOME

Royal Neighbors of America will meet at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the Modern Woodman hall to go in a body to the home of Mrs. Anna Pearce, who died Tuesday.

FULL TICKETS PROMISED FOR CITY ELECTION

Republicans Seek Every Office But Solicitor, They Decide

COMMITTEE MEETS

May and Kraft Enter Council Contest

Tom A. Renick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, declared today that his party will sponsor a candidate for every city office except that of solicitor. No Republican candidate has been picked to run against Carl C. Leist who today filed his petition for a second term as solicitor.

The executive committee met Tuesday evening in Renick's office with about 20 present.

As a result of the meeting Mrs. Fannie B. Kirkpatrick, E. Ohio-st, today had obtained a petition to run for the city auditor's job which is now contested by Miss Lillian Young, incumbent, and John Himrod, Democrats.

Maek Parrett, Jr., Republican, has already filed for the city treasurer's job. William T. J. Howard is the Democratic candidate.

Leslie D. May, E. Franklin-st, is another Republican in the race. He has obtained his petition for councilman-at-large and will run with Ben H. Gordon, W. F. Baker and F. A. Marlow. Three are to be elected. It was also said to be possible that another Republican candidate for councilman-at-large will enter the contest.

Claude D. Kraft, E. Franklin-st, has also joined the political race running for second ward councilman. Kraft is a Republican and will oppose Julius Helwegen, Democrat, at the polls in November providing no other opposition develops.

The Republican organization of the city is also making plans to have a candidate out of each ward councilman's job. Harry Steinhauser, W. Mound-st, has already filed his petition for third ward councilman while, as yet, the G. O. P. has no candidate for first or fourth ward councilman.

Pat Hickey to Run

Pat Hickey, Maplewood-ave, obtained a petition at the board of elections office today for third ward councilman on the Democratic ticket. Don J. White has already filed a petition for this job.

Raymond H. Smith, former policeman, today filed his petition for the Democratic nomination for mayor. He and Mayor W. B. Cady are the only two who have filed their petitions and paid their $4.50 fee for filing.

Harry E. Weill, deputy clerk of the election board, said today that it is not necessary for trustees, boards of election, constables of justices of the peace to file petitions at this time. They must have their's in the election board office not later than 60 days before the Nov. 5 election. The primary is August 13.

Mr. Steinhauser appeared in the Republican committee meeting and announced that he was being a candidate.

POWER FOR RURAL OHIO REQUESTED

Electrification Unit Formed as Incorporation Papers Are Filed.

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Incorporating to create rural electrification units throughout Ohio, the Farm Bureau Rural Electrification Cooperative, Inc., today launched its program to bring cheap electric power to farmers.

Following authorization by the board of trustees of the Farm Bureau Federation, officials of organization today filed with Secretary of State George S. Myer the papers necessary for incorporating a non-profit corporation.

Purposes of the new organization, as set forth in the papers, are "to sponsor, promote, aid and assist in making available the use of electrical energy to the inhabitants of the rural areas of Ohio, through the formation of agencies created to distribute electric energy, at cost and not for profit."

Officials of the Federation explained that units will be set up in rural areas and power purchased and distributed from existing lines.

PRESIDENT PLEADS PERMANENT PEACE

U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY, WEST POINT, N. Y., June 12.—The greatest need of the world today is the assurance of permanent peace, President Roosevelt told the graduating class and assembled cadet corps of West Point here this morning.

Calling attention to the small, strictly defensive peacetime army of the United States, as evidence of its own non-aggressive attitude toward its neighbors, the President declared that if the new-fledged officers contributed, everywhere their service took them, toward mutual friendliness and helpfulness, they would have rendered full service to their own country.

At the same time he admitted that the American army had been allowed to drift too far toward ineffectiveness for the country's safety in recent times.

GAS TAX MONEY TOTAL $18,000

Invades "Sin's Lair"

The Rev. Samuel J. Williams

Coming from Hopedale, O., to Hollywood to save Clark Gable from sinful film fame, the Rev. Samuel J. Williams, young pastor, was disappointed but not deterred when told Gable was on Catalina island making a picture.

The minister, claiming to have a special message from his flock, said one of the women in his congregation had seen in a dream the Hollywood movie people as lions, being saved by the prayers of good church people. The Rev. Mr. Williams was prepared to urge Gable to take up an evangelistic career.

LOUIS COYNER DIES

Louis Coyner, a resident here a number of years ago and a brother of Mrs. Carrie Patton, W. Mound-st., passed away suddenly Tuesday at his home in St. Louis. He was a Roscoe native.

He leaves his widow, two sons and a daughter.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon in St. Louis.

Herald Publishes Weekly Farm Page

What's doing in Pickaway-co's rural sections, among its farmers, 4-H club leaders and others? The Herald is publishing a "Farm Page" weekly on which news of interest is found. The new sign-up for hog-corn contracts is underway, rural electrification campaign is gaining speed, and 4-H club meeting reports are found on the page in addition to much other information.

WALEYS EVADE DEATH TRIAL?

Reports Couple to Plead Guilty
Under Lindbergh Law and Serve Life.

TACOMA, Wash., June 12.—Within a week Harmon Metz Waley, 24, and his wife Margaret, 19, will kiss and say farewell forever.

He will be taken to Alcatraz Island, Uncle Sam's "Devil's Isle," in San Francisco bay, and she to federal women's prison at either Alderson, Va., or Milan, Mich.

In cells many thousand miles apart, the Waleys, admitted participants in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case, will spend the remainder of their lives.

International News Service learned today on reliable authority that the Waleys will plead guilty when arraigned here on federal kidnaping charges—commonly known as the Lindbergh law—which were filed at the request of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

The Waleys, captured at Salt Lake City with approximately half of the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser ransom, consider the chance to plead guilty to the federal accusations as a "break," it was learned. This procedure means they will not "risk their necks."

By facing the federal charge, the Waleys feel they will escape trial and possible death in the state courts on charges of kidnaping nine-year old George Weyerhaeuser, scion to a vast timber fortune.

PAIR IS JAILED FOR GRAND JURY PROBE

Columbus Men Held Under
$1,000 Bond Each; Crites
Faces Charges.

Two Columbus men, Kline Lurty and Grover Eubanks, were bound to the grand jury each under $1,000 bond, Tuesday, when they appeared before Squire H. O. Evland for grand larceny in connection with theft of cigarettes from a Strawser line truck.

They were represented by Max C. Seyfert, Jr.

Lurty and Eubanks were arrested by Sheriff Joe Vincent of Chillicothe who charged they took cigarettes from the truck while it was passing through Pickaway-co.

H. M. Crites, S. Court-st., is charged with assault and battery and battery in charges filed in Squire Evland's court by Walter Artrip and Donald Sweeney, local youths, who claim he struck them. The hearing has been continued with the date not yet set.

POWER FOR RURAL OHIO REQUESTED

Electrification Unit Formed
as Incorporation Papers Are Filed.

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Incorporating to create rural electrification units throughout Ohio, the Farm Bureau Rural Electrification Cooperative, Inc., today launched its program to bring cheap electric power to farmers.

Following authorization by the board of trustees of the Farm Bureau Federation, officials of organization today filed with Secretary of State George S. Myers the papers necessary for incorporating a non-profit corporation.

Purposes of the new organization, as set forth in the papers, are "to sponsor, promote, aid and assist in making available the use of electrical energy to the inhabitants of the rural areas of Ohio, through the formation of agencies created to distribute electric energy, at cost and not for profit."

Officials of the Federation explained that units will be set up in rural areas and power purchased and distributed from existing lines.

Republicans Seek Every Office But Solicitor,
They Decide

COMMITTEE MEETS

May and Kraft Enter
Council Contest

Tom A. Renick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, declared today that his party will sponsor a candidate for every city office except that of solicitor. No Republican candidate has been picked to run against Carl C. Leist who today filed his petition for a second term as solicitor.

The executive committee met Tuesday evening in Renick's office with about 20 present.

As a result of the meeting Mrs. Fannie B. Kirkpatrick, E. Ohio-st., today had obtained a petition to run for the city auditor's job which is now contested by Miss Lillian Young, incumbent, and John Himrod, Democrats.

Maek Parrett, Jr., Republican, has already filed for the city treasurer's job. William T. J. Howard is the Democratic candidate.

Leslie D. May, E. Franklin-st., is another Republican in the race. He has obtained his petition for councilman-at-large and will run with Ben H. Gordon, W. F. Baker and F. A. Mariona. Three are to be elected. It was also said to be possible that another Republican candidate for councilman-at-large will enter the contest.

Claude D. Kraft, E. Franklin-st., has also joined the political race running for second ward councilman. Kraft is a Republican and will oppose Julius Helwegson, Democrat, at the polls in November providing no other opposition develops.

The Republican organization of the city is also making plans to have a candidate out of each ward councilman's job. Harry Steinhilber, W. Mound-st., has already filed his petition for third ward councilman while, as yet, the G. O. P. has no candidate for first or fourth ward councilman.

Pat Hickey to Run

Pat Hickey, Maplewood-ave., obtained a petition at the board of elections office today for third ward councilman on the Democratic ticket. Don J. White has already filed a petition for this job.

Raymond H. Smith, former policeman, today filed his petition for the Democratic nomination for mayor. He and Mayor W. B. Cady are the only two who have filed their petitions and paid their $4.50 fee for filing.

Harry E. Weill, deputy clerk of the election board, said today that it is not necessary for trustees, boards of election, constables or justices of the peace to file petitions at this time. They must have their's in the election board office not later than 60 days before the Nov. 5 election. The primary is August 13.

Mr. Steinhilber appeared in the Republican committee meeting and announced that he was being a candidate.

JONES' SQUAD RALLIES, WINS FROM OIL "9"

Score in Seventh and Eighth To Tumble Cities Service Out of Select List.

Rallying to score four runs in the seventh and three in the eighth the Jones Specials, beaten in their first three starts of the season, defeated the Cities Service Oils, 10 to 4, on the SOElectric Co. field.

The game was a well-played affair for the first six innings with the Specials tying it up at 3-all in that session.

The seventh saw a big rally by the Specials and an argument, one of the few so far this season, when Grant batted out of turn. Only one was out at the time and two runs in. The third run scored as Grant was thrown out at first base. The proper batter, W. Jones, was called out but the question was what to do with Grant who had batted. The Oils, showing fine sportsmanship, agreed to permit Grant's time at bat not count although they did let the run score. Another run scored on Wefler's wide run of Hariston's grounder.

Three With Two Out

The three runs the Specials scored in the eighth came after two went out. A. Jones, Coleman, L. Hill, D. Johnson and W. Jones smacked out consecutive hits. D. Johnson was thrown out at the plate on W. Jones' hit to end the inning.

The Cities Service boys clubbed R. Jones' offering for five hits in the first two innings but bogged down to score only four bingles the remainder of the game.

Wefler's fielding in the early innings was the best seen on third base this year but he slipped twice later on. L. Hill robbed several Cities Service men of hits into his left field area.

Dink Hariston and L. Hill were the hitting stars the former getting four out of five including a triple, and the latter got three singles.

"Feed Fight" Tonight

Tonight one of the big games of the early season is scheduled with the "Feed Fight" on between the Eschelman Feeds and Purina Chows. Carl Purcell and Lefty Holland will be the opposing hurlers.

BAT HIS SPOKESMAN - By Jack Sords

GROVE'S FEAT AIDS RED SOX CHANCES

NEW YORK, June 12.—Stock in Joe Cronin's Boston Red Sox took a decided boom today as an aftermath of the five-hit pitching of Lefty Grove against Mickey Cochrane's Tigers.

Since the start of the season ball players of other clubs have said Grove was all washed up, that he had lost his stuff and that he'd be lucky to win 10 games.

But Lefty must have had something more than a glove and a prayer to hold the Tigers to five hits and if that performance is a criterion of his real ability, the Red Sox will have to be considered a serious contender.

The Baer-Braddock Fight Will be Broadcast from the Ringside.

GARDEN HOPES CHAMP LOSES TITLE MATCH

Baer Says He is Through With Garden; Squabble Over Official Continues.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The first heavyweight title fight in a year was only a little more than 24 hours away today.

When planned some few months ago and up until a few days back the fight was generally regarded as a set-up for the champion, Max Baer. In the last few days, however, there has been a sharp swing in sentiment to the challenger, Jimmy Braddock, although no one seems to know why.

Certainly on comparative records, the likeable Braddock doesn't figure to have more than the most outside of chances against the terrific punching Baer.

A great deal of the Braddock favor probably can be traced to wishful thinking.

Much of it, at any rate, has been inspired by Madison Square Garden, where a Baer defeat is devoted to be hoped for. Baer has stated in no uncertain terms that if he wins this fight, he'll never again defend his title under garden auspices.

Lists Five Officials

Meanwhile the question of a referee for the battle remains unanswered. Baer's manager, Alvin Hoffman, stormed out of the boxing commission offices yesterday with a threat to refuse to allow Baer to fight if the third man in the ring is not satisfactory to him.

It was learned, incidentally, that Baer had failed to post a $2,500 forfeit guaranteeing his appearance in the ring tomorrow night, thereby creating a situation virtually unprecedented in heavyweight title history.

Hoffman named five men whom he said would be acceptable to him as referee and asked the commission to name one of them.

They are:

Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion.

George V. Blake, generally regarded as the best referee in the game.

Lieut. Com. Jess Kenworthy, USN, hero of the Macon disaster and well known Pacific coast referee.

Ed W. Dickerson, Grand Rapids sports writer.

Lieut. Jack Kennedy, USN.

The commission's answer to Hoffman was that none but New York referees would be considered for the assignment. None of those named by Hoffman have licenses to referee in New York State.

CWENS ATTEMPTS 100-YARD MARK

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Jesse Owens of Ohio State university, holder of three world track and field records, today said he hoped to break the 100-yard record of Frank Wykoff in the dual meet with the University of Southern California Saturday but he would make no special effort to accomplish it.

"I am going out there to beat Southern California men in four events Saturday if I can, not to run against time," the negro star said. "The records will take care of themselves and if I ever run 9.3 seconds it probably will be when I am trying the least."

Owens, who with his Ohio State teammates took a brief workout at Bovard field, home of the Trojans of Southern California, said he believed "the absolute future maximum for human performance is 9.2 seconds for the 100 yards, 20 seconds flat for the 220, 22 seconds flat for the low hurdles and probably 27 feet for the broad jump."

COCA COLAS WIN IN BOWLING MATCH

With Frank Lynch leading the way, the Coca Cola bowling team won a 2610-2456 match from a Chillicothe team in the Ross-co metropolis Tuesday evening.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

"Doubleheaders"

Tuesday was a great day for doubleheaders—Cincinnati took a pair of games from the New York Giants, Freitas and Herrman winning their first games of the year; Cleveland lost two to the Philadelphia Athletics; Boston with Grove and Ferrell hurling grabbed a pair from the league champs, the Tigers; the Yankees took two more from the hapless St. Louis Browns, and the White Sox and Senators split.

"Sparkie" Boots

The Birds lost, too, 1 to 2 with Louisville's Bots Nikola hurling the victory—Sparkie Adams' fumble permitted the winning run to score—Jim Winford was the loser.

Hensley Deal Off

The reported deal between Cleveland and St. Louis with Rollie Hensley going to the Indians and Brenzel, Lee and $30,000 going to the Browns is off, 'tis said—The Browns have decided to keep the backstop.

Good Card Planned

Norman Aronson deserves a break in the weather—He's been rained out, and everything else in his fight at Scippo park, so we are rooting for the weather man to remain off the scene Thursday evening—Norman has Don Brannon and Gaines Hill tangling in the main-go and it promises to be a real sock-fest—Three other good fights are booked—Norman says the card will be over in plenty of time to hear the broadcast of the Baer-Braddock heavyweight battle.

Bats Out of Turn

Here's the rule for a batter taking his cut out of turn—A batter is out if he bats out of turn, unless the error is discovered in time for the regular batter to take his place before he becomes a base runner, in which case the called balls and strikes shall be charged to the regular batter; but only the proper batsman (the man whose turn has been missed) shall be called out. No runs shall be scored or bases run because of any act of the wrong batter. If the improper batsman reaches base and the error discovered, he must bat again and all runners return and the man whose turn has been missed is called out. If, however, the player batting out of turn has finished his time at bat and the ball has been delivered to the succeeding batter, this rule does not apply. Should the out under this section be the third of the inning, the proper batsman in the next inning shall be the player who would have come to bat if the players had been retired in their regular order in the previous inning.

INDIANS NEAR LEAGUE LEAD

Indianapolis Team Only Four Points Back of St. Paul; Red Birds Lose.

COLUMBUS, June 12.—The American association race became tighter today when Indianapolis' scrapping baseball club closed in on the league-leading St. Paul nine, through virtue of its 9 to 5 win over Toledo. The Indians are still in second, four percentage points removed from the Saints who bowed to Milwaukee, 13 to 5.

The Indians fell on the offerings of three Mudhen pitchers for a total of 15 safe blows while Turner, Indianapolis hurler, succeeded in keeping the nine Toledo hits well scattered.

The Saints, although they managed to touch Polli, Milwaukee pitcher, for 40 hits could not produce in the pinch. The Brewers gathered a total of 12 safe blows off four St. Paul hurlers, Kinzy, Hunter, Mills, and Grimes.

The Saints hit for 22 total base hits with six doubles and two home runs featuring their attack. Home runs by Warner, and McManis were recorded.

Behind the five-hit pitching of Walter Tauscher, Minneapolis beat the Kansas City Kaws, 3 to 0. Norris' homer and Tauscher's brilliant hurling, for his eighth win of the season, were the high spots.

Columbus bowed before the lowly Louisville Colonels, 2 to 1. Frank Nikola, Colonel moundman, held the Birds to eight scattered hits while the Colonels showed over two runs in the fifth. Adams' costly error paved the way for the Louisville runs.

ORPHANS TO GET ANNUAL CUTING

The 29th annual cutting of the Columbus Automobile club for the orphans of Franklin, Pickaway, Union, Madison, and Delaware counties, will be held all day Monday, June 24th, at Olentangy park. This cutting which has come to be a gala event in the lives of the orphaned children in this section, is regarded by officials of the club as one of the finest features of the club's work.

Every feature of the cutting is designed to bring a full and complete day of happiness to the little unfortunates who are denied many of the joys and pleasures of childhood, and all the myriad of amusements at Olentangy Park will be turned over to them for the day. A motor caravan, composed of motor busses furnished by local bus companies, school busses and private cars of club members, will collect the children from the different orphanages and will assemble on E. Broad-st about 8:30 in the morning.

TERRAPLANE

... with most that's really NEW today ... has most to insure top trade-in value

"Climb up on top, too, if you want to ... it's steel, you know!"

WHEN you choose your 1935 car, think how it will compare with the new cars a year or two from now! That's what will decide its trade-in value.

Who will want to be driving—then—with anything less than complete steel protection? Terraplane gives you that protection now, in America's only bodies all of steel.

Will you want brakes that are up to date or out of date? Terraplane's police-tested brakes have cut "perfect stopping" almost in half in public tests from coast to coast.

Performance is always important ... and Terraplane has record-breaking performance today, certified by 36 official marks on the A. A. A. record books.

So it is with many other features found in no other lowest price car. Drive a Hudson-built Terraplane today. See for yourself how far ahead

JONES' SQUAD RALLIES, WINS FROM OIL "9"

Score in Seventh and Eighth To Tumble Cities Service Out of Select List.

Rallying to score four runs in the seventh and three in the eighth the Jones Specials, beaten in their first three starts of the season, defeated the Cities Service Oils, 10 to 4, on the SOElectric Co. field.

The game was a well-played affair for the first 6 innings with the Specials tying it up at 3-all in the 7th session.

The seventh saw a big rally by the Specials and an argument, one of the few so far this season, when Grant batted out of turn. Only one was out at the time and two runs in. The third run scored as Grant was thrown out at first base. The proper batter, W. Jones, was called out but the question was what to do with Grant who had batted. The Oils, showing fine sportsmanship, agreed to permit Grant's time at bat not count although they did let the run score. Another run scored on Wefler's wide run of Hariston's grounder.

Three With Two Out

The three runs the Specials scored in the eighth came after two were out. A. Jones Coleman, L. Hill, D. Johnson and W. Jones smacked out consecutive hits. D. Johnson was thrown out at the plate on W. Jones' hit to end the inning.

The Cities Service boys clubbed R. Jones' offering for five hits in the first two innings but bogged down to score only four bingles the remainder of the game.

Wefler's fielding in the early innings was the best seen on third base this year but he slipped twice later on. L. Hill robbed several Cities Service men of hits into his left field area.

Dink Hariston and L. Hill were the hitting stars the former getting four out of five including a triple, and the latter got three singles.

"Feed Fight" Tonight

Tonight one of the big games of the early season is scheduled with the "Feed Fight" on between the Eshelman Feeds and Purina Chows. Carl Purcell and Lefty Holman will be the opposing hurlers.

BAT HIS SPOKESMAN - By Jack Sords

GROVE'S FEAT AIDS RED SOX CHANCES

NEW YORK, June 12.—Stock in Joe Cronin's Boston Red Sox took a decided boom today as an aftermath of the five-hit pitching of Lefty Grove against Mickey Cochrane's Tigers.

Since the start of the season ball players of other clubs have said Grove was all washed up, that he had lost his stuff and that he'd be lucky to win 10 games.

But Lefty must have had something more than a glove and a prayer to hold the Tigers to five hits and if that performance is a criterion of his real ability, the Red Sox will have to be considered a serious contender.

The Baer-Braddock Fight Will be Broadcast from the Ringside.

Young Jockey Star

Eighteen-year-old Leonard Turner, an apprentice rider, bids for top jockey honors at Bainbridge park, near Cleveland, where he booted in five winners on opening day and continued his sizzling pace. The Dayton, Wash., boy was leading rider in the recent meeting at Aurora race track, near Chicago.

GARDEN HOPES CHAMP LOSES TITLE MATCH

Baer Says He is Through With Garden; Squabble Over Official Continues.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The first heavyweight title fight in a year was only a little more than 24 hours away today.

When planned some few months ago and up until a few days back the fight was generally regarded as a set-up for the champion, Max Baer. In the last few days, however, there has been a sharp swing in sentiment to the challenger, Jimmy Braddock, although no one seems to know why.

Certainly on comparative records, the likeable Braddock doesn't figure to have more than the most outside of chances against the terrific punching Baer.

A great deal of the Braddock favor probably can be traced to wishful thinking.

Much of it, at any rate, has been inspired by Madison Square Garden, where a Baer defeat is devoted to be hoped for. Baer has stated in no uncertain terms that if he wins this fight, he'll never again defend his title under garden auspices.

Lists Five Officials

Meanwhile the question of a referee for the battle remains unanswered. Baer's manager, Ancil Hoffman, stormed out of the boxing commission offices yesterday with a threat to refuse to allow Baer to fight if the third man in the ring is not satisfactory to him.

It was learned, incidentally, that Baer had failed to post a $2,500 forfeit guaranteeing his appearance in the ring tomorrow night, thereby creating a situation virtually unprecedented in heavyweight title history.

Hoffman named five men whom he said would be acceptable to him as referee and asked the commission to name one of them.

They are:

Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion.

George V. Blake, generally regarded as the best referee in the game.

Lieut. Com. Jess Kenworthy, USN, hero of the Macon disaster and well known Pacific coast referee.

Ed W. Dickerson, Grand Rapids sports writer.

Lieut. Jack Kennedy, USN.

The commission's answer to Hoffman was that none but New York referees would be considered for the assignment. None of those named by Hoffman have licenses to referee in New York State.

CWENS ATTEMPTS 100-YARD MARK

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—Jesse Owens of Ohio State university, holder of three world track and field records, today said he hoped to break the 100-yard record of Frank Wykoff in the dual meet with the University of Southern California Saturday but he would make no special effort to accomplish it.

"I am going out there to beat Southern California men in four events Saturday if I can, not to run against time," the negro star said. "The records will take care of themselves and if I ever run 9.3 seconds it probably will be when I am trying the least."

Owens, who with his Ohio State teammates took a brief workout at Bovard field, home of the Trojans of Southern California, said he believed "the absolute future maximum for human performance is 9.2 seconds for the 100 yards, 20 seconds flat for the 220, 22 seconds flat for the low hurdles and probably 27 feet for the broad jump."

COCA COLAS WIN IN BOWLING MATCH

With Frank Lynch leading the way, the Coca Cola bowling team won a 2610-2456 match from a Chillicothe team in the Ross-co metropolis Tuesday evening.

Lynch tallied 213-185-196 for a 594 total.

B. Hamilton scored 654 for the winners.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

"Doubleheaders:"

Tuesday was a great day for doubleheaders—Cincinnati took a pair of games from the New York Giants, Freitas and Herrman winning their first games of the year; Cleveland lost two to the Philadelphia Athletics; Boston with Grove and Ferrell hurling grabbed a pair from the league champs, the Tigers; the Yankees took two more from the hapless St. Louis Browns, and the White Sox and Senators split.

"Sparkie" Boots

The Birds lost, too, 1 to 2 with Louisville's Bots Nekola hurling the victory—Sparkie Adams' fumble permitted the winning run to score—Jim Winford was the loser.

Hemsey Deal Off

The reported deal between Cleveland and St. Louis with Rollie Hemsey going to the Indians and Brenzel, Lee and $30,000 going to the Browns is off, 'tis said—The Browns have decided to keep the backstop.

Good Card Planned

Norman Aronson deserves a break in the weather—He's been rained out, and everything else in his fights at Scioto park, so we are rooting for the weather man to remain off the scene Thursday evening—Norman has Don Brannon and Gaines Hill tangling in the main-go and it promises to be a real sock-fest—Three other good fights are booked—Norman says the card will be over in plenty of time to hear the broadcast of the Baer-Braddock heavyweight battle.

Bats Out of Turn

Here's the rule for a batter taking his cut out of turn—

"A batter is out if he bats out of turn, unless the error is discovered in time for the regular batter to take his place before he becomes a base runner, in which case the called balls and strikes shall be charged to the regular batter; but only the proper batsman (the man whose turn has been missed) shall be called out. No runs shall be scored or bases run because of any act of the wrong batter. If the improper batsman reaches base and the error discovered, he must bat again and all runners return and the man whose turn has been missed is called out. If, however, the player batting out of turn has finished his time at bat and the ball has been delivered to the succeeding batter, this rule does not apply. Should the out under this section be the third of the inning, the proper batsman in the next inning shall be the player who would have come to bat if the regular order in the previous inning."

INDIANS NEAR LEAGUE LEAD

Indianapolis Team Only Four Points Back of St. Paul; Red Birds Lose.

COLUMBUS, June 12.—The American association race became tighter today when Indianapolis' scrapping baseball club closed in on the league-leading St. Paul nine, through virtue of its 9 to 5 win over Toledo. The Indians are still in second, four percentage points removed from the Saints who bowed to Milwaukee, 13 to 5.

The Indians fell on the offerings of three Mudhen pitchers for a total of 15 safe blows while Turner, Indianapolis hurler, succeeded in keeping the nine Toledo hits well scattered.

The Saints, although they managed to touch Folli, Milwaukee pitcher, for 40 hits could not produce in the pinch. The Brewers gathered a total of 12 safe blows off four St. Paul hurlers, Kinzy, Hunter, Mills, and Grimes.

The Saints hit for 22 total base hits with six doubles and two home runs featuring their attack. Home runs by Warner, and McManus were recorded.

Behind the five-hit pitching of Walter Tauscher, Minneapolis beat the Kansas City Kaws, 3 to 1. Norrie' homer and Tauscher's brilliant hurling, for his eighth win of the season, were the high spots.

Columbus bowed before the lowly Louisville Colonels, 2 to 1. Frank Nekola, Colonel moundsman, held the Birds to eight scattered hits while the Colonels shoved over two runs in the fifth. Adams' costly error paved the way for the Louisville runs.

"Climb up on top, too, if you want to ... it's steel, you know!"

WHEN you choose your 1935 car, think how it will compare with the new cars a year or two from now! That's what will decide its trade-in value.

Who will want to be driving—then—with anything less than complete steel protection? Terraplane gives you that protection now, in America's only bodies all of steel.

Will you want brakes that are up to date or out of date? Terraplane's police-tested brakes have cut "perfect stopping" almost in half in public tests from coast to coast.

Performance is always important ... and Terraplane has record-breaking performance today, certified by 36 official marks on the A. A. A. record books.

So it is with many other features found in no other lowest price car. Drive a Hudson-built Terraplane today. See for yourself how far ahead

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, June 12—Attacking repeal of the 18th amendment, Common Pleas Judge Harry Tyler today had fined Roy Applegarth $25 and costs for violating a gun which killed George Blacker in a beer garden. He blamed the law rather than the act for the crime.

DISPLAY FLOWER SHOW POSTERS

Posters, entered in the Flower Show contest, have been on display in the Public library during the past week and have attracted much attention.

The library hopes to have another exhibit of the creative work of Pickaway-co boys and girls at the close of the summer. Suggestions and cooperation in working out this plan, are invited.

Those who have not called for their flower posters should get them this week, any day, between nine and six o'clock.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 5 met in the high school gymnasium Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Karl Herrmann met with us and taught us some new songs.

We played a radio game and a hike was planned for next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Every member of the troop who was not at Saturday's meeting should see some member who was present to find out what she should take on the hike.

THIS WAR-MAD WORLD

JUST how long can the present feverish preparation for war continue without the production of the logical consequence of such activity? This is a question which will be given thoughtful consideration by the more serious-minded observers of the trend of events.

Fear reigns in Europe. Every cable from abroad supports this theory. Germany has thrown all of the restraints of treaty agreements and of reason to the winds. Notwithstanding the prohibitions of Versailles, she is building submarines and airplanes and adding hundreds of thousands to her standing army, which will be able to move, when the time comes, with the speed of the wind.

Meanwhile, France and Russia build a ring of steel around Germany. England prepares to meet Hitler's challenge in the air and on the sea. Mussolini, with the "menace" of little Ethiopia to offer as a justification of aggressive policies, hastens with the development of a huge force of fighting men.

There are, of course, many explanations for this unsettled and menacing situation. One of them is the fact that among all the great names conspicuous in the affairs of Europe at the present time there is not one statesman with the courage and initiative to sail ahead regardless of torpedoes.

There is not one with the true qualities of greatness required to check the phobia which, if permitted to continue unrestrained, will end in the madness of war.

NEW WRINKLE

OF THE too frequent collision between drunken driver and sober pedestrian we have heard a great deal. Piloting an engine of destruction, his senses befuddled with drink, the drunken driver did all the damage and got all the blame. Now in Boston the situation has been reversed and it develops that a sober driver has run over a drunken pedestrian. Who is to blame?

The judge of the municipal court in Boston who heard the case says that the drinker is still to blame, and if not criminally guilty, at least the cause of the accident. And, moreover, the sober driver is entirely guiltless. He sizes it up as follows:

"If certain people insist upon filling themselves with liquor and staggering about the streets until they get killed, people who are driving the cars which hit them cannot be necessarily held liable criminally merely because they drove the vehicle which caused actual death."

Of course the jurist is right. Some, we suspect, would be even more severe with the drinking pedestrian and slap him in jail for running into a defenseless and sober automobile.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The National Thespians presented a play, "The Arrival of Kitty," for the benefit of Berger hospital. It was directed by J. Wylie Fetherlin.

Isaac Grabill, 90, Civil War veteran and one of the county's oldest residents, died at his home in Jackson-twp. He was born in Pickaway-co in 1840, and was a private in Co. C, 154th O. V. I.

Lewis McClaren, well known taxicab operator, was given a contract to haul the mail from Circleville to Stoutsville, Amanda and Lancaster.

15 YEARS AGO

The Boy Scouts, almost 100 in number, in charge of Scout Executive Porter, hiked to the Phillips farm and spent the night in camp at Scippo park. This was the first outing of the year for the boys and it was a thoroughly enjoyable one.

Dr. D. V. Courtwright, Circleville physician, was appointed a member of the committee on publications of the Ohio Medical society.

EXCEPTIONALLY FINE

ONE SELDOM encounters such fine bidding as North and South did on their holdings. The logic of it all may require explanation to fully appreciate how each of them understood that their one chance for a small slam was in dummy's ability to obtain a discard on declarer's greater length of hearts and the possession by declarer's partner of just a single losing club to be discarded on the long heart. All that is not easy to read across the table.

Bidding went: South, 1-Heart; West, 2-Diamonds; North, 2-Hearts; East, 3-Clubs; South, 3-Spades, to afford partner an optional call if desired; North, 4-Spades; South, 5-Hearts, for partner to leave unless he saw the chance for a discard by playing at spades; North, 6-Spades. The fact that North had not first made a jump assist showed that he did not expect a small slam at hearts, should be noted.

nor could a grand slam be expected in spades—South's second choice of suits—and one which North had not been strong enough to show over partner's opening heart call. Evidently South must cease bidding, and he did, but West doubled.

Lacking the Ace of his own suit, West led the top of suit bid by partner. Dummy's Ace won the trick. East played the 10. South did not waste an instant on thinking over squeezing opponents who each held a single suit to guard. Declarer took three rounds of trumps. He was fortunate enough to find neither opponent with more than three. For an instant South had feared that West's double meant that one defender held at least four trumps, but in that case he would have made a trump lead, to cut down chances for a ruff and a discard in the other hand.

Five rounds of hearts followed. On the last round dummy's last club was discarded. Declarer led his last club and dummy used its last trump to ruff the trick.

A low diamond was led from dummy. Declarer's Ace won the trick. West was given the single diamond trick. Then South showed the last card left in his hand was a trump, just fulfilling his doubled contract. Doubling a contract which cannot be defeated more than a single trick at best is stupid. South was not vulnerable. The double would give its maker only 50 added points in case of success, but the double would give contract was fulfilled. Such odds never should be risked.

STORMY LOVE

A YOUNG NAVY MAN'S ROMANCE

BELLE BURNS GROMER

READ THIS FIRST:

Following a whirlwind romance in Shanghai where he is attached to a U. S. gunboat, carefree Lieutenant Valentine Preston suddenly marries Lia, Chinese, an American southerner who is alone in the world except for an aunt in Peiping and a father in the Gobi desert whom she has not seen for years. When Val is transferred to Puget Sound Navy Yard, Lia is greatly disappointed at leaving China. At Bremerton Val finds Lia's cousin, daughter of Captain Edding who is also stationed there. His childhood sweetheart, he left her in a huff as she sailed from Shanghai and that same day first met Lia. The Prestons meet Maurice Cordray, an aviation executive, who displays an unusual interest in Lia. After a business trip to Seattle with Captain Edding, Val returns to find Lia giving a gay party. At first incensed, he later joins in.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 26

THE FOLLOWING morning, however, was not so hot. Val arrived late at the office and as the slow hours dragged by he felt as if diabolic trip-hammers were at work inside his skull. Linbury, his boss, was still away on leave which left Val in charge of communications. He had never taken this job seriously and today the routine seemed doubly irksome. He felt stupid and inert and completely bored.

In the midafternoon he lounged at his desk staring across at Dyer, the chief radio electrician, a square-jawed man with five black marks on his sleeve, a face like the map of Ireland, and a sense of humor that embraced everything but the United States navy which he held as sacred. Just now he was enthralled, as he had been for days, by a huge chart of the Pacific area spread across a table and dotted with little colored flags on pins. By means of these markers he was following as closely as possible the movements of the fleet which a week earlier had begun its spring battle practice off the length of the coast.

Now Dyer said over one brawny shoulder, "I'm thinkin' this squadron of destroyers scoutin' somewhere off Cape Flattery better take on fuel pretty soon and beat it back to protect their carrier or the enemy fleet is sure going to raise hob with the whole Blue Force, sir."

"Didn't a tanker sail from here this mornin' to refuel them?" Val asked indifferently.

"Yessir. But the tanker sailed under sealed orders and the rendezvous ain't been radioed the destroyers yet. Orders should come in soon. As near as I can figure it, the whole squadron must be pretty low on fuel right now."

Watching the man's engrossment, Val remembered Captain Edding's advice that he study the fleet map. He agreed with the idea, but thought this was no time to start. Indeed, he must get out of doors pretty soon or blow up. He was required, of course, to observe office hours. But Dyer was here. Dyer did most of his work anyway. At three o'clock, while the man was pouring into his chart, Val slipped out the door and set off for a stroll.

His walk in the cool spring air quieted his throbbing head; it rested his eyes to watch the soft mists hanging in the little valleys of the hills. It was almost five when he recalled that Cordray was giving dinner in Seattle tonight. As he turned back toward the yard he noted there would be just time to dress before their host picked them up in his car to catch the ferry.

He was in the midst of shaving when Lia called from the bedroom. "Oh, by the way, Dyer was here looking for you. He came twice I think. Something about one of those messages of his. Why can't he attend to it without bothering you?"

"Dyer is a very conscientious

Val felt completely bored.

gent," he answered indifferently. "We are probably out of paper clips and he wants to tell me about it. I'll look in when I'm dressed and see what he has on his mind."

When he finally went across to the office with just ten minutes to spare, he found a distraught Dyer pacing the floor. The man stared at Val's dinner clothes with amazed eyes. "I left word there was an important message to be sent through, Mr. Preston," he said. "I thought you'd come right away."

"Well, I'm here."

"Yessir. But these are the refueling orders to that squadron of destroyers we were talkin' about. They came right after I found you'd gone out. It's important, Mr. Preston. Those destroyers must be almost out of oil by now and the message came into the office nearly two hours ago."

"Why didn't you send it, then? And why get upset? The tanker will radio them a position if we don't."

He was suddenly aware that Dyer was staring at him with ill-concealed contempt in the quirk of his big mouth. "I thought you understood, sir," he said, "that the ships are under radio silence during this problem. If I'd sent the squadron a straight position for their rendezvous with the tanker, the whole enemy fleet'd have picked it up and been on their tails by now."

Val's face flushed hotly when the enlisted man went on explaining as if to a child. "Because this message must be coded before it is sent out is why it's been held up, sir. With Mr. Linbury on leave, you're the only one that's got access to code book A."

The color had drained from Val's face, his jaw set. It was a damned poor naval officer, he knew, who would make a bust like this. That party last night must have added his brains. He set about unlocking the safe, brought out the code and began hastily to work over the message.

It was not a long order but he was inept in transcribing quickly. He had been at work only a few minutes when the telephone rang. It was Lia to remind him there was only a little time left to catch the ferry. He was tense with nerves and he answered her shortly. His hands were unsteady, his forehead damp when he turned to his task. As he thumbed through the book and jotted down numbers, he heard Cordray's car turn into the office driveway. The chug of that damned motor distracted him. An impatient horn grunted. A second warning followed. Now it called, by the elect ladies, of the neighborhood.

It was a great place for a fellow to take his girl. It was such an event as might be held in joyous anticipation for a couple of weeks, and in fond remembrance, for months. The lad who had a good buggy and a sprightly horse was in luck. Very thoroughly he washed his buggy, had the harness clean and its metal parts shining, the buggy whiff decorated with a ribbon tied around the stock, and himself arrayed in his best.

His girl did her natural and normal bit by fixing up, too, and usually was ready and looking down the road for at least an hour before her swain was due to arrive.

The horse and buggy days, somewhat derided by Mr. Roosevelt, had their compensations and advantages.

THERE'S LIFE IN THE OLD BOY YET!

Heard & Seen

By KAY JAY

A four-leaf clover is usually considered an emblem of good luck. During my youthful days I spent hours and hours in clover fields, on my hands and knees, searching for what I was never able to find. My companions could, and did, find them by the dozen, but that was one boyhood achievement that was denied me.

And along comes Harry Steinhauser the other day and showed me a five-leaf clover. Don't know whether Harry found it himself or talked some kid out of it, but anyway he had it in his possession. It's growth, especially two of the leaves, had been somewhat stunted and it had not developed uniformly, but the stem actually had five leaves instead of the usual three.

Harry has named the specimen after the now famous Dionne quintuplets.

Another of Mother Nature's oddities has made its appearance in at least two flower gardens in neighboring counties, and that is five perfect tulips on the same stem. One of these plants was grown at Washington C. H. and another in a garden at Blanchester, the latter in a bed of 600 tulips.

It seems to me those Dionnes started something.

It took an Irishman by the name of O'Callaghan, writing in the Detroit Free Press, to pen the following ode, which he entitled "Ah, Onion."

O little, pungent, pearly sphere,
I drop for you a salty tear
Though not for reasons lachrymose
I weep about you.
Deep ambushed in my salad dish
Flanked by some shreds of tuna
Art out of place, bulb adipose;
But what would Irish stew
Do
Without you?

Without your fair unraveled leaf
'Tis but a mess of spuds and beef
But with your aura delicate
'Tis feast Olympic
To spread before a gourmet's eyes
Or Grecian epicure that lies
And sees the maidens circulate
In dances Olympic
All hail, small illacious thing
Art worthy of the song I sing
Although my stomach warns me well
To pass you by.
At intervals I take a chance—
With you in gastronomic dance
Singing with fervor: "What the hell
If I must die
Without a taste of tasty things,
Tobacco, onions, sausage rings
Or any of the better gifts
From night till noon
It's at last sweet my death
With ne'er an onion laden breath.
If I must pass without these lifts
Let it be soon."

Philosophical Attitude Is Advised for Insomnia

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I HAVE BEEN reading a book on insomnia, with much of which I am compelled to disagree. The author thinks it is more important than I do, and thinks it is due more to organic disease than has been my experience.

True, organic conditions will cause insomnia—pain, for instance. But if a person has enough pain to keep him awake, he complains of the pain and hardly minds the insomnia at all. Insomnia due to pain is also easy to treat, and should demand treatment by pain-easing drugs (of which there are many), or by the treatment of the underlying cause.

Insomnia, if due purely to mental or personal cause, is not deleterious to health—though it often makes the patient very unhappy. True, the digestive and certain other functions rest during sleep and such rest is good for them; but they also rest if you rest your body quietly in bed, even if awake.

Philosophy Best Cure
The best treatment of insomnia is to take a philosophic view of it. If you realize that resting the body quietly in bed in the dark (even if you do not go to sleep) will result in refreshment and re-invigoration almost as much as sleep itself, you will have gained half the battle. And even more valuable is the fact that if you take this attitude awhile, sleep will come. Because it has been found in its early stages, with a relaxation of all the muscle fibers.

It is difficult to judge the amount of damage insomnia is doing because there is no normal standard for the amount of sleep a person needs. One person needs this much, another that much. And the amount changes with

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

"I Am a Thief," Warner Bros. latest melodramatic mystery thriller, is scheduled to open at the Grand Theatre tonight with Mary Astor and Ricardo Cortez heading an all star cast.

The picture, based on a story by Ralph Block and Doris Malloy, recounts the breath-taking adventures of a band of international jewel robbers who plot to steal an almost priceless set of diamonds known as the Karenzias.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Society Doctor," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture at the Cliftona Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, has as its setting the various departments of a great metropolitan hospital.

Yet, in the sense of the word, it is not a hospital drama. It is a faithful chronicle of human emotions, a composite life-time crowded into the brief span of eight hours.

Chester Morris and Virginia Bruce are teamed as the featured players, each offering excellent performances.

different ages and different conditions of life. So a definite prescription of the amount of sleep required cannot be laid down. The amount of sleep one gets into the habit of taking is probably a good indication of the amount one needs, and is adjusted by Nature to the demands made by one's intellectual activities.

A good example of this is shown by the attitude of most people on shipboard. For the first few days the journey stretches ahead in a long vista of inactivity. People sleep like logs, not only longer than their usual quota at night, but getting in a daytime nap also. Then as the trip nears a close, and they become excited about landing and getting about their active affairs again, they find their nights broken and restless, and no daytime relief is found. It is simply the adjustment of the body to their daily needs.

Many Methods Used

For the treatment of insomnia there are many methods. The use of hypnotic medicine may be advisable. I have a medical friend who says that the best nerve tonics are such things as veronal or barbital, because there is nothing so good for the nerves as sleep.

So far as dietetic measures are concerned, it is advised not to eat in the evening a large meal full of starches which will ferment and keep the digestive organs active all night.

Massage helps many, recalling Charcot's remark that massage is local hypnotism.

And, believe it or not, wrapping yourself in a sheet wrung out of cold water is one of the best inducers in the world.

man of your heart, don't miss "Hei Tiki," the Maori romance-drama now showing at the Circle Theatre.

"Hei Tiki" is Maori for "Love Charm," and is a small ornament made of silver, bone or mother-of-pearl and worn by every Maori maiden as a sure attractor of the men they desire.

It works, too! In fact, it proves so effective when "Mara," the heroine wears it and wins the love of "Manu," her Maori hero, that rival tribes go to war to prevent the marriage of the true lovers.

Sweet was the song that Youth sang once,
And passing sweet was the response;
But there are accents sweeter far
When Love leaps down our evening star.

SIGN-UP FOR AAA PROGRAM ON SCHEDULE

Meetings Begin Wednesday; 700 Expected To Sign For Participation.

John G. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway-co allotment committee under the AAA program, announced today that notices had been sent to farmers of Pickaway-co that contracts under the new corn-hog sign-up are ready.

Meetings were scheduled beginning Wednesday and continuing Thursday and Friday throughout the county.

All Group 1 contracts which number about 700 will be signed at that time. Group 1 contracts are those in which no changes were made from last year's contracts. Group 2, 95 in number, are those in which the corn base is changed, while Group 3, about 30 in all, are those in which the hog base is changed. Groups 2 and 3 will be signed up later.

All contracts in Group 1 must be signed this week in order to get in the group that goes to Washington immediately.

Co-operation of farmers and township workers is urged.

The meetings will be held at the following places:

Circleville, 1 to 6 p. m. Wednesday, farm bureau office.

Darby, 1 to 7 p. m. Thursday, school house.

Deercreek, 1 to 8:30 p. m. Thursday, W. D. Heiskell office.

The Junior Fair Board for the year 1935. The young people to represent the various organizations who have been appointed by the heads of the various departments are: Robert Bausum, Vocational Agriculture; John Peters, Boys 4-H Clubs; Martha Wright, Girls 4-H Clubs; Mary Noecker, Home Economics; George Fischer, Future Farmers; to be appointed, Boy Scouts; Betty Jane May, Girl Scouts; Gail Barthelmas, School Shop.

Vocational Agriculture: Approximately eighty five boys in the vocational agriculture departments of the county are eligible to compete. Vocational agriculture as given in the high schools of the county gives the boys actual experience in improved methods of farming. As a part of the vocational boys school work he carries at least one home project as swine, dairy, sheep, corn, potatoes, etc.

It will be the purpose of the classes in vocational agriculture in the junior fair to further encourage the boys to receive training in feeding and showing good livestock and produce and show examples of good crops.

4-H Clubs. Boys' and Girls' Club work as carried on in 4-H Clubs in the various communities of the United States has been one of the most effective and far-reaching types of Extension Work. It has enabled many a boy and girl to find his or her real place in life. It has provided business training which has been valuable to them in whatever occupation they may decide to follow. As a community builder, Boys' and Girls' Club work in many communities has established to a great extent the types of farming which are being followed. It has encouraged better practices in agriculture and has been an inspiration toward the breeding and production of better livestock. It has been a most effective demonstration to many farmers and to many home-makers and has instilled greater companionship between father and son, mother and daughter.

Home Economics: We learn by doing, and with this idea in mind many high schools have established home economics departments to offer girls systematic, technical, and practical instruction in home making pursuits. A few of the many interests a girl finds in home economics classes are: interior decorating, costumes, table service, home furnishing, foods and preservation, child development, personal accounts.

Future Farmers of America: The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys who have been or are enrolled in vocational agriculture classes. The local organizations delegate responsibilities of community service under the direction of the agriculture teacher. Rural leadership is the outstanding need of the hour. It will continue to be the greatest need of the future. Much of the hope for improved farm conditions lies in cooperative endeavor, and successful cooperation depends on leadership. The boys of this organization have as their motto "Learning to do. Doing to learn. Earning to live. Living to serve."

Juvenile Grange: The Juvenile Grange is an organization for boys and girls. It offers early training in leadership and cooperation. The organization has a variety of interests in which the spirit of helpfulness and fraternal union prevails. The members are encouraged in charity, nature study, self-reliance, etc.

Scouting: Scouting is an educational game by which boys and girls learn by playing the game. The scout trains himself or herself by action, by observation, and by thought, and thereby prepares himself so that when the need arises he may be helpful and daily "do a good turn" which is part of the scout's motto. Woodcraft, handicraft, first aid, swimming, camping, citizenship are some of the many activities which the active scout finds open.

School Shop: The various schools of the county teaching manual training have been doing some very good work. This work trains the mind and hand. It gives the boys an opportunity to know just how skillful their hands may be. In this department the boy will be offered the opportunity to make individual displays of his hand craft.

INTEREST CUTS ASSIST FARMERS

New interest reductions on Federal Land Bank loans as provided by the Farm Credit Act of 1935, recently signed by President Roosevelt, means savings amounting to millions of dollars to the farmers of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee who have federal land bank loans on their farms, according to a statement by Miss Ethel Brobst of the Pickaway Farm Credit Administration.

"The temporary interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent prevailing on land bank loans during the past two years is now further reduced to 3 1/2 per cent on all interest installments falling due during the 12 months period beginning July 1, 1935," he said, "while for the two years following July 1, 1936 the rate will be but 4 per cent."

"On the nearly $200,000,000 of Federal land bank loans outstanding in the Fourth District the interest reduction means further important savings in the cost of farm land financing. Interest payable on installment dates after June 30, 1938 will be at the original contract rate. This is 4 1/2 per cent on loans now being made through national farm loan associations, and varies from 5 to 6 per cent on loans made prior to April 1, 1935."

The interest rate on Land Bank Commissioner's loans is not affected by the new law, but remains at 5 per cent per year.

AAA BENEFITS 727 MILLIONS IN TWO YEARS

Comptroller's Report Shows Great Figures Collected Through Processes.

Rental and benefit payments to producers cooperating in the adjustment programs, expenditures in connection with programs for removal and conservation of surplus agricultural commodities, and other adjustments expenditures chargeable against receipts from processing taxes reached a total of $709,062,385.33 as of May 1, 1935, cumulative during the two years, since the date of organization May 12, 1933, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration stated today in its comptroller's monthly report. For the same period, processing tax receipts totalled $224,430,579.15.

The report also lists expenditures amounting to $211,533,906.50 up to May 1, 1935 which are chargeable against net appropriations of $398,418,639.60, or are financed through special trust fund receipts, and which are not financed by processing taxes.

Up to May 1

The total of all expenditures up to May 1 for which funds are provided either by processing taxes by specific appropriations is shown as $1,001,596,291.83 made up of rental and benefits of $727,391,226.08; removal of surplus operations involving $225,430,069.48, and administrative expenses of $48,774,996.27. These total expenditures compare with total funds available from both appropriations and processing tax receipts, of $1,222,849,218.75.

The report includes the following expenditures for which processing tax funds are available: rental and benefit payments, $696,403,173.01; removal and conservation of surplus agricultural commodities, $63,855,796.91; and administrative expenses $55,803,415.41.

Rental and benefit payments, from funds available through processing taxes cumulative for all adjustment programs, by commodities, are as follows: Cotton, $225,985,152.40; wheat, $163,592,147.41; tobacco, $33,573,077.23; corn-hogs, $256,366,878.10; and sugar, $10,885,917.87. Removal of surplus operations paid out of processing taxes include: Hogs, $46,083,678.96; wheat, $6,097,239.21; dairy products, $10,958,431.25; sugar, $365,836.44; and peanuts, $350,911.05.

This comptroller's report, which lists rental and benefit payments by commodity, state, and county, will be the last of the monthly reports, cumulative from May 12, 1935, as succeeding reports will be on a revised basis, giving expenditures cumulative for the current fiscal year.

YOUNG FARMERS HAVE TO CHANCE TO OWN PROPERTY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 11 — Young farmers and tenants now have enlarged opportunities to become farm owners as a result of the recent approval of President Roosevelt of the Farm Credit Act of 1935 which extends and modifies the scope of Land Bank Commissioner's loans, according to statement by R. W. McLemore, Jr., vice president of The Federal Land Bank of Louisville. These loans are administered by the bank acting as Agent for the Land Bank Commissioner. "The new provision enabling Commissioner's loans to be made for the purpose of buying farm land provides a good opportunity, for a young man to buy a farm or for tenant farmers to become land owners," said Mr. McLemore. "Formerly Commissioner's loans could be made only to refinance debts, to repurchase farms lost by foreclosure and to act as working capital. The new law extends to January 1, 1940 the time during which Commissioner's loans may be made, and adds land purchase to the uses which may be made of loan funds."

Land Bank Commissioner's loans are made on the security either of first or second mortgages on land. A loan as $7,500 may be loaned to any farmer, but the amount of any loan plus the existing debts of the borrower may not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised normal agricultural value of the farm.

Land Bank Commissioner's loans bear a 5 per cent interest rate. Interest payment only is required until July, 1938, after which semi-annual installments include payments on the principal sufficient to extinguish the loan in from 10 to 15 years.

What's Doing in 4-H Club Circles

4-H CLUBS OF STATE ACTIVE

Increased Enrollments Noted In Many Counties, Organizer Reports.

Four - H clubs, busily reorganizing all over Ohio this month, are looking forward to another interesting and profitable year, according to W. H. Palmer, state leader of 4-H clubs for the Ohio State University.

Palmer and his assistants report increased interest in many parts of the state. In two counties, Noble and Hancock, clubs are being organized after a lapse of several years. In all, 83 counties will conduct a 4-H program this year, compared with 81 last year and 78 two years ago.

Formal enrollment of clubs will have been completed in the state by June 1, and many county club leaders have reported finishing their organization work before May 15.

Reports from some of the earlier organized county clubs point to another large enrollment of rural youth between the ages of 10 and 20 in the 4-H club program. Last year 52,000 enrolled. There has been a gradual and constant increase in club enrollments since 1919, when 6500 took part in the program, Palmer states.

From Preble and Clermont counties have come reports to the state office of increases as large as 200 in county enrollments. Henry-co reports an increase of 150.

In Muskingum-co 30 of the 39 girls' clubs had reorganized by April 15. Washington-co reports organization of five new boys' clubs. Already 60 clubs in Knox-co have begun work on the season's program; last year there were 56 clubs there.

Leaders and officers of 58 of the 60 clubs in Highland-co were represented at a meeting Saturday, May 18 when 300 met to plan a club program.

Palmer states that increased activities and larger enrollments in these counties are due, in part, to the work of community and county 4-H club councils which are assuming fuller responsibility for the conduct of club programs locally.

Club work is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Ohio State University Agricultural Extension Service.

The Jackson-twp 4-H Pig club has elected its officers. Harold E. Holt is the leader with George Fischer as assistant.

Eugene Keller was named president; John Speakman, vice president; James Seimer, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Hulse, recreation leader.

The club will hold its next meeting at the Jackson-twp school, July 2.

PAUL ANDERSON, Reporter.

The Logan Elm 4-H club held a meeting Monday evening at the Pickaway-twp school. The president, Junior Mowery, called the meeting to order. Nine members were present and our advisor Hoyt Timmons.

After a short business meeting games were enjoyed by the group. The next meeting will be June 17.

MAURICE JURY, Reporter.

The Jackson-twp 4-H Clothing club held its first meeting June 6. The roll was called and we discussed the three articles we are to make. We are to have the first article started by the next meeting.

We had three visitors and after the meeting we played games. The next session will be June 18 at 1:30 p. m. at the school.

JEAN LIST, Reporter.

The Jolly Campers 4-H club accompanied by their leaders, Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer Jr. motored to Mount City Park at Chillicothe on Sunday evening, and held their regular meeting there and cooking their supper following the business session. The group will meet again on June 25, at the home of Dudley and Delma Steele.

MARTHA WRIGHT, News Reporter.

A check-up on corn-hog application, showed that 47,383 Ohio corn and hog growers have applied for AAA contracts.

COUNTY SIGNS PETITION FOR ELECTRICITY

Rural People Being Urged To Sign Petitions; Meeting In Darby-Twp.

Considerable interest is being manifest in the rural electrification discussion by Pickaway-co residents.

Petitions urging the federal government to proceed with its program have been placed in the hands of a number of responsible farmers following action at a district farm bureau meeting when it was voted to urge the government to follow through with its action.

One farmer, whose name was not disclosed, has partially circulated his petition and has 49 signers. Others have been greeted with equal enthusiasm.

A meeting is scheduled at Darby this week at which time the rural electrification program will be discussed. A large number of farmers from the north and western parts of the county are expected to attend.

Palmer and his assistants report increased interest in many parts of the state. In two counties, Noble and Hancock, clubs are being reorganized after a lapse of several years. In all, 83 counties will conduct a 4-H program this year, compared with 81 last year and 78 two years ago.

Formal enrollment of clubs will have been completed in the state by June 1, and many county club leaders have reported finishing their organization work before May 15.

Reports from some of the earlier organized county clubs point to another large enrollment of rural youth between the ages of 10 and 20 in the 4-H club program. Last year 52,000 enrolled. There has been a gradual and constant increase in club enrollments since 1919, when 6500 took part in the program, Palmer states.

From Preble and Clermont counties have come reports to the state office of increases as large as 200 in county enrollments. Henry-co reports an increase of 150. In Muskingum-co 30 of the 39 girls' clubs had reorganized by April 15. Washington-co reports organization of five new boys' clubs. Already 60 clubs in Knox-co have begun work on the season's program; last year there were 56 clubs there.

Leaders and officers of 58 of the 60 clubs in Highland-co were represented at a meeting Saturday, May 18 when 300 met to plan a club program. Palmer states that increased activities and larger enrollments in these counties are due, in part, to the work of community and county 4-H club councils which are assuming fuller responsibility for the conduct of club programs locally.

Club work is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Ohio State University Agricultural Extension Service.

The Jackson-twp 4-H Pig club has elected its officers. Harold E. Hott is the leader with George Fischer as assistant.

Eugene Keller was named president; John Speakman, vice president; James Seimer, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Hulse, recreation leader.

The club will hold its next meeting at the Jackson-twp school, July 2.

PAUL ANDERSON, Reporter.

The Logan Elm 4-H club held a meeting Monday evening at the Pickaway-twp school. The president, Junior Mowery, called the meeting to order. Nine members were present and our advisor Hoyt Timmons.

After a short business meeting games were enjoyed by the group. The next meeting will be June 17.

MAURICE JURY, Reporter.

The Jackson-twp 4-H Clothing club held its first meeting June 6. The roll was called and we discussed the three articles we are to make. We are to have the first article started by the next meeting.

We had three visitors and after the meeting we played games. The next session will be June 18 at 1:30 p. m. at the school.

JEAN LIST, Reporter.

The Jolly Campers 4-H club accompanied by their leaders, Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer Jr. motored to Mount City Park at Chillicothe on Sunday evening, and held their regular meeting there and cooking their supper following the business session. The group will meet again on June 25, at the home of Dudley and Delno Steele.

BABY BEEF CLUB ENJOYS ITS TOUR

Although it rained, the tour of the Baby Beef Club was enjoyed by all its members on Friday, June 7.

We started our tour at the home of Josephine and Roger Wolf and after seeing the calves of the other members, we ended at the home of Hewitt Cromley.

We talked of the program of our beef calves and those that could lead theirs had the pleasure of showing them.

The most enjoyable part of the tour was to see the calf of Mary Jane Smith take Mr. Blair down through a field. We found out that Mr. Blair could really hold on to a calf.

The tour came to an end with a picnic supper and we all were very hungry after such a tour.

After supper, Roberta Cromley entertained with several pieces on her accordion.

Our next meeting will be held June 20 at the home of Josephine and Roger Wolf.

The second meeting of the Live Wire Clothing Club of Deercreek-twp was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Wertman. We decided to hold our meetings on the first and third Wednesday of each month. We decided upon our summer work.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mary and Helen Schleich on June 19 at 2:00 p. m. New members are invited to join before June 11. The club officers are Virginia Ater, president; Mary Alice Puffinbarger, vice president; Virginia Puffinbarger, secretary-treasurer; Mary Schleich, news reporter; and Helen Schleich, recreation leader.

PATTERN 5377

Smartness comes in a lacy bit of glove that makes your hand look charming. Isn't that a combination to delight every woman? The glove is made in a large mesh making it gossamer-like in its daintiness. This mesh makes the work go more quickly too! The lacy cuff in the same mesh has a design most effectively worked in a closer stitch. This glove—exclusive with Alice Brooks—is one of the daintiest crocheted gloves to be had. It is lovely in white but can be made in black or a pastel color to match a dress.

In pattern 5377 you will find complete instructions for making the gloves shown; an illustration of them and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 124 W. Main-st., Circleville, O.

PATTERN 9391

Because the smart matron has learned to enhance her own charm—poise and dignity—with distinguished lines, she claims this frock as her very own! Because the design lends itself so well to a cool, sheer fabric so desirable right now, she'll want to make it immediately! And these are two excellent reasons for choosing a simple dress whose soft waistline treatment doesn't call undue attention to that strategic point, whose cool, graceful cape is flattering to the mature figure and whose soft bowknot is just the needed flip! Nothing could be more practical and flattering than a softly printed turns in September for a special session devoted to taxatica, will be confronted not only with the herculean task of raising in the neighborhood of $15,000,000 for 1936 old age pensions, but must find some new tax levy that will bring in an other $8,000,000 for public schools.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BILL IS SIGNED BY GOV. DAVEY

Carlton S. Dargusch, state tax commissioner, believes the eight million figures underestimates the burden the Traxler-Kiefer bill places on the state government, and is of the opinion that ten millions in new revenue for schools is more nearly correct.

Many capital observers considered enactment of the public school foundation program as tantamount to signing an order for a stiff state income tax. In no other way, they contended, can the state provide 48 millions for schools and 15 millions for pensions in 1936 and thereafter.

In affixing his signature to the bill, Davey took cognizance of the fact it is strictly an appropriation measure, making no provision whatever for raising the 48 millions a year it proposes to spend.

Warning

Presiding officers at public meetings are warned to be careful of their introductions of Representatives Maury Maverick of Texas or Vito Marcantonio of New York. The two scrappy leaders of the House liberal bloc are very outspoken young men.

Maury and Vito were speakers at separate gatherings in New York City a few days ago. By coincidence both administered sharp verbal spankings to their introducers at about the same time.

At Maverick's meeting, his introducer eloquently presented him as the Congressman from the 20th District of Mexico.

It happens that Maverick stems from an old Texas family. His grandfather was a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence. So he preceded his remarks with the following:

"It is high time that you easterners realized that the country is not bounded by the Hudson River. Texas is not in Mexico. It was once, but it won its independence and then presented itself to the United States. Keep that in mind, it presented itself without a charge."

Marcantonio staged a snappier spectacle. His meeting was an American Legion affair at which were present a large number of Italian ex-service men. In presenting Marcantonio the presiding officer flamboyantly announced that "we want no more hyphenated Americans."

Marcantonio also hit the rostrum running: "You have just heard one of these stuffed shirts denounce 'hyphenated Americans' well, I am a hyphenated American and so are millions of other good, loyal, honest Americans. These swivel-chair heroes who have only hearsay knowledge of gunpowder seem to forget that the World War veterans we are gathered here to honor were only 'hyphenated Americans.'"

Having thus declared himself, Marcantonio strode off the platform to the cheers of the assembled veterans.

Next morning he was flabbergasted to find wardens bending over him. It was several hours before the mistake was explained, and the director of the asylum bowed the sane man out.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BILL IS SIGNED BY GOV. DAVEY

turns in September for a special session devoted to taxation, will be confronted not only with the herculean task of raising in the neighborhood of $15,000,000 for 1936 old age pensions, but must find some new tax levy that will bring in an other $8,000,000 for public schools.

Carlton S. Dargusch, state tax commissioner, believes the eight million figures underestimates the burden the Traxler-Kiefer bill places on the state government, and is of the opinion that ten millions in new revenue for schools is more nearly correct.

Many capital observers considered enactment of the public school foundation program as tantamount to signing an order for a stiff state income tax. In no other way, they contended, can the state provide 48 millions for schools and 15 millions for pensions in 1936 and thereafter.

In affixing his signature to the bill, Davey took cognizance of the fact it is strictly an appropriation measure, making no provision whatever for raising the 48 millions a year it proposes to spend.
